A. HISTORICAL OVERVIEW

Smethport is located in the center of McKean County on historic US Route 6. In 1807 the 228 acre site for the county seat was selected as the most suitable location from a huge tract of 300,000 acres acquired as a grant from John Keating. His surveyor Francis King and party came by canoe and camped at the junction of Marvin and Potato Creeks spending three weeks surveying town lots. At this time there were no roads in McKean County. The name Smethport came at John Keating's request to honor his Dutch bankers, the de Smeth's. The first settler, Captain Arnold Hunter, arrived in 1811, but there was no permanent settlement until 1822.

At the beginning of the Civil War in 1861, Colonel Thomas L. Kane chose Smethport as his headquarters to recruit men for the "McKean County Rifles" of the Pennsylvania Reserves because "the men of our region were fiercely patriotic, skilled with the handling of firearms, seasoned in survival techniques, physically strong and robust, and in possession of an unusual, determined character." One of the new recruits noticed a deer hanging at a nearby butcher shop, went over, cut off the tail and affixed it to his hat. Col. Kane saw the symbolism and had the recruits attach strips of deer hide to their hats officially proclaiming these men as the "Bucktail Regiment".

During the 1870's and 1880's Smethport experienced an economic boom because of the huge timber and oil resources and the advent of railroads. The rapid growth and sudden wealth led to the construction of numerous Victorian mansions that are today incorporated into a walking tour of the Mansion District. The first Courthouse constructed in 1827 was replaced in 1851 and again in 1881. The current one was built in 1940 after a fire had destroyed the third one. During the boom period there were as many as six hotels in Smethport.

The construction of the East-West Road across Pennsylvania's northern tier counties was the single most important event in opening up the region for settlement. The original survey of 1806 gave rise to a road connecting the northern tier county seats. It later became known consecutively as the Roosevelt Highway, the Grand Army of the Republic Highway and is now the Historic US Route 6. In 2005 Smethport was proclaimed by Governor Rendell as Pennsylvania's First Route 6 Heritage Community.
